- W. P. Light Brenking. The returns which we are now receiving from the elections in the Northern States are highly encouraging: We have still further evidences from the press of the party now in power, that they are fearful of overwhelming defeat. A notable illustration of this apprehension is to be found in the Cincinnati Commercial. which, after charging its party with entertaining the feeling that it is necessary to select as its candidate for the Presidency "a military chieftain avowedly as an expediency candidate," declares that "the main diffienlty" in the way of the success of the Republicans, 'has been and is the incapacity of Congress to attend to business."

This is remarkable language from a paper occupying a position like that of the Commercial; but it speaks the truth, and the whole country will bear witness to its veracity. Who are to blame for the condition of our revenue laws, customs and excise, by which the honest industry of the country is fettered and weighed down, and which teach the whole people to believe that prosperity can only be attained by evading the provisions of law? Who are to blame for the fact that, since the spring of 1866, the Southern States have been virtually out of the Union? Who are to blame because the statute books of the United States are crowded with enactments which are unconstitutional in letter and spirit? Who are to blame for the fact that Congress to-day-as evidenced by the election returns-has not the confidence of the masses even at the North? The telegraphic wires, every day, give the most emphatic answers to these queries.

The Commercial is right. The Congress has not, of late, been blessed with any extravagant capacity for business. It has botched and mismanaged most of what it has undertaken, and it is likely to do so, so long as its present party organization exists; unless it heeds the warnings of such fearful friends as the Commercial. This paper has the following remarks concerning the Democracy:

"The Democracy were, for some time, laughed at, on account of their antiquarian proclivities. They were succeed at about the old issues and defied to meet the new ones. They are getting out of the antediluvian They are concerning themselves intimately with the matters that are of most practical interest to the people at this time; and there they must be met, or while our friends are still making their old war speeches they will find themselves divested of power and place with ex-treme and surprising suddenness. The Republican party cannot carry the next presidential election with war cries alone."

There is much truth in such articles as the above, now prevalent in every section among the more conservative portion of the Republican press, that is worthy of note. An expediency candidate may hold the organization together during the next presidential campaign; but in legislation it will not be wanted. The country will gain by the differencethe prospects brighten every hour.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF. - Enormons taxation and the heaping of undue burdens upon the industry of the people, have caused most of the great revolutions of the world. The history of fereign nations, as well as the lessons of the American revo-lution, teach us this lesson. The enormous takation imposed upon the people of the United States by modern republicanism, to support a number of wealthy national banks to enrich shoddy contractors and to enable thieves to prey upon the revenues of the country, lies at the foundation of the great political revolution now in progress.

Wendell Phillips is out in his Anti-Slavery Standard, of the 17th, in another furious tirade against the President, "Teach men to forget Ohio and Pennsylvania," he says, "in the blaze of a fiercer contest. Throttle the President; clean out that nest of unclean birds, the Cabithat nest of unclean birds, the Cabinet. Every other policy is death—slow death. Nothing but daring, courage, gallantry, will win back popular sympathy. Press bravely on Impeach the traitor at the White House. Utter want of self-respect has wrecked the party—nothing else," etc., etc.

Immigration. The State Board of Immigration in Virginia have adopted a series of resolutions, from which we extract the two subjoined. We call attention to these resolutions, as they are applicaple to South Carolina as well as Virginia. We have frequently urged, in the columns of the Phonic, the importance of this matter, upon our readers; have advised them to have smaller and more productive farms; to keep no idle acres in their posses sion, and to welcome industrious Northern men and foreigners, by selling to them, at as low a price as possible, whatever lands they could not themselves use profitably. The following are the resolutions to which we refer:

"Resolved, That an earnest appeal be and is hereby made to the public and railroad manufacturing com-panies, to subscribe $10,000 for the purpose of developing the operations of the European and Domestic Agency of Immigration, created by this Board, on the 9th of August last, under the authority of the Act of Gen eral Assembly, passed March 3, 1866. "Resolved, That the Commissioner of this Board and its European and Domestic Agents are requested and authorized to canvass, jointly or severally, the counties in which the immigrants from abroad are most needed, and to solicit and receive subscriptions to raise the abovenamed sum of money, either at the public meetings, should calling them be required, or from the individual citizens and corporations that are disposed to lend assistance to carry into effect the immigration scheme adopted by this Board, which is in tended to redeem the Commonwealth from its prostrate condition, material and political: Provided, That no au thority is conferred on said Commis sioner and Agents by which a pecu niary responsibility could be fixed upon the State or this Board.

EXTERNITE ROSDERY AT BRANCH-VILLE The Branchville Hotel, on the South Carolins Railroad, was robbed in a most dexterous manuer, on the night of the 30th ultimo, when money and other valuables to the amount of nearly $6,500 were carried away. One of the proprietors, Mr. Pohl, had placed all his money and valuables in a box, and locked it up in the cellar. He then took the down train to the 58 mile station, where he took the up train for Branch-ville. During his absence—not more than an hour—some person or persons, unknown, made a breach through the wall, eighteen inches thick, under the platform, and in this way effected an entrance.

ANOTHER INCENDIARY FIRE -We learn that on the night of the 23d ult., the gin house of Mr. Jesse W. Timmerman, living in the neighbor-hood of Pleasant Lane, was destroyed by fire. There seems to be very little doubt that this deed was the accursed work of an incendiary. Mr. Timmerman's loss-including fifteen bales cotton, threshers, fans, &c.—is estimated at $2,000.
